SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. Barracks in LUMBAH (AUS), situated due north of the R.R. station on the Waisenstrasse, consist of six buildings for EM, four for officers and NCO's, and three garages, the latter with a capacity of 40-50 vehicles each. The EM barracks were fully occupied by about 3,000 men. Approximately 30 men were stationed in each billet allocated to officers and NCO's. All billets, including attics, were lighted at night. The majority of EM were aged 18-20.
All troops wore black shoulder straps/red piping, and armored insignia.

2. The middle shed of three in the yard was open on 10 November and fifty-four T-34/85's were seen inside. Some, with engines running, were being checked by mechanics. [redacted] there were tanks in the other sheds, but this could not be determined. Two T-34/85's were being given new tracks and drive shafts before an assembly shop in one wing of the sheds. Vehicles [redacted] [redacted] some with [redacted] on their sides, were parked in a shelter west of the compound; the majority were Studebakers. Another repair shop is located between billets buildings (details not reported).

3. At the barracks entrance are a guard post, a staff building, and a radio station. The latter is in operation. A cable runs from the radio site to the staff building. Parked in this area were radio car [redacted] and a black, two-door Wanderer [redacted]. Vehicle traffic at the barracks: [redacted] (some with [redacted] on their sides, and [redacted] including many drivers, school vehicles.

4. Behind the barracks and north of the freight station is a large garage where work was being performed on two SU-85's. [redacted] [redacted]. Artillerymen making the repairs later proceeded to the former insane asylum south of the station.
There was much pedestrian traffic between the garage and asylum, but no vehicle traffic.
